RF Exposure Information (SAR)

This tablet is designed and manufactured not to exceed the emission limits for exposure to radio frequency (RF) energy set by the Federal Communications Commission of the United States.

During SAR testing, this device was set to transmit at its highest certified power level in all tested frequency bands, and placed in positions that simulate RF exposure in near the body with the separation of 5 mm. Although the SAR is determined at the highest certified power level, the actual SAR level of the device while operating can be well below the maximum value. This is because the Tablet is designed to operate at multiple power levels so as to use only the power required to reach the network. In general, the closer you are to a wireless base station antenna, the lower the power output.

The exposure standard for wireless devices employing a unit of measurement is known as the Specific Absorption Rate, or SAR. The SAR limit set by the FCC is 1.6W/kg.

This device is compliant with SAR for general population / uncontrolled exposure limits in ANSI/IEEE C95.1-1992 and has been tested in accordance with the measurement methods and procedures specified in IEEE1528.

The FCC has granted an Equipment Authorization for this tablet with all reported SAR levels evaluated as in compliance with the FCC RF exposure guidelines. SAR information on this tablet is on file with the FCC and can be found under the Display Grant section of www.fcc.gov/oet/ea/fccid after searching on FCC ID: 2AU1FRMPXXXX.

For this device, the highest reported SAR value for usage near the body is 0.16 W/kg.

While there may be differences between the SAR levels of various tablets and at various positions, they all meet the government requirements. SAR compliance for body-worn operation is based on a separation distance of 5mm between the unit and the human body. Carry this device at least 5mm away from your body to ensure RF exposure level compliant or lower to the reported level. To support body-worn operation, choose the belt clip or holster, which do not contain metallic components, to maintain a separation of 5mm between this device and your body.

RF exposure compliance with any body-worn accessory, which contains metallic, was not tested and certified, and use such body-worn accessory should be avoided.
